

Where's Wally? BSLog Number 3 - Fact Into Doubt Won't Go - South Isle Beckoning

Landing here in Christchurch, the first thing I wanted to do was repair my legs from last night's hash! I found this place called Hot Pools - Hepunataimoana - just say that before you've had a chance to put your teeth in or eating a bowl of Rice Crispies for breakfast - you would certainly suffer snap, crackle and pop? I was expecting lots of nubile men, women and trans in bikinis - and I am not changing my non binary status. But this was more like Plague of the Zombies.

The hotpools overlook a non-descript beach and the only view is a concrete pier (Prince Charles would call it a carbuncle (new electric vehicle?) and Isambard Kingdom Brunel would be turning in his grave.

I told the ladies on reception that I had travelled 10,000 miles for this and so got a discount. It was hot and crowded with antipodeans and so I tried the cold plunge

Diving into cold water can be deadly - here's how to survive it said a newspaper article so I did.

This is not as left but a 8 foot deep hole and it was a mistake - you jump in and go to the bottom - freezing - I was waiting for the Anaphylactic Shock but fortunately it never came. Anyway an Anaphylactic Shock sounds like something you shove up your bottom to treat stubborn piles!

So off to rendezvous with the Christchurch hash at the Sumner Rugby club. Here I got talking to Scotty, a big butch rugby player at the club. We were getting on on very well and he was providing free drinks for me. I was telling him how the Kiwis needed to improve their cricket team and also that the All Blacks would fail soon and he disappeared - not where's wally where are my free drinks - not appreciated. [Ed - surely you could see that coming?]

So the run was a joint one (sponsored by Voltarol) with Christchurch and Garden City (presumably a chap from Welwyn started it?).

Yes this is looking down down on Sumner and it was a horrendous climb - I staggered into the drinks stop at the top halfway point and thought I might get a lift back in a car.

But my royal status was not treated well by these republicans (speak to FRB for more info).

Remember this was bestowed on me by top man in SH3 - Le pro.

They said that doesn't count as like Michelmas Surgeon he is Scottish.

They also started putting WAN and FUC in front of my name - total abuse. [Hahaha!]

After the long and winding circle we were allocated to a bus for...

The Christchurch 5 day road trip - similar to Easy Rider - I have always imagined myself as Peter Fonda - [more like Thelma and Louise(Ed)]

- more on on this if you are unlucky but here are those that went with me. Mon Oncle and some others may recognise some names.
