

Aloha Waddlers!

We wanted to share an important update with you regarding the Cruise itself.

To recap, ATG (Antarctica Travel Group) handles the initial bookings and related details for the trip. Albatross is the Expedition Operator. Liquor Up and I have been attempting to fill up the ship with Hash Family & Like Minded Souls, obviously more fun for all of us that way. On that front, we have some great news to share with you!!

ATG & Albatross had originally agreed on APRIL 1st as the cut off date to review the bookings and determine if we will indeed operate as a full charter which would allow us major flexibility onboard the ship. That APR 1st meeting was delayed and finally took place the other day.

Albatross was very excited to tell ATG that we are just about there for the full charter designation, so close in fact, that they will extend that APRIL 1st deadline to JUNE 1st.

We are only 25 guests away from becoming a FULL CHARTER!!!!!!!.

As great as that news is, we recognize that isn't a ton of time.

To maximize our chances of becoming a full charter, which benefits us all, we are respectfully going to ask everyone for a bit of help, hoping you can find that ONE special friend who has Antarctica on their radar and invite them to join us.

I'm guessing someone will ask this question, "We only need 25 more guests? I see though there is still room on the ship for even more friends?" True.

The threshold though for a full charter as determined by Albatross and ATG is only 25 more guests.

The fact is, after JUNE 1st pricing will go up, there won't be any deals. No more free drink package, no free kayaking so the time to fill up the ship with our extended Hash Family is by JUNE 1st.

Like any Hash event the sooner you book the cheaper it is. Being an Antarctica Cruise, as the price goes up fewer will be able to, "take the plunge."

If we did go to a half charter we lose control of who joins us. Anyone can book. Our shore excursions & activities however will remain within our group.

Much thanks in advance for your help.

Once in the website Please remind your friends (Hashers or Muggles) to scroll down to the "Cabins" section. Find a cabin & click on the "Learn More," "Join A Waitlist" or "Sold Out" tabs, fill out the info, ask questions and click "send" to lock in this pricing.

Completing these forms does not mean they have booked. It merely means they requested more information and locked in this pricing. Albatross will then know others have inquired.

Here is a quick reference of the pricing:
